

Working together to beat bullying

Internet Matters in partnership with tootoot, and supported by the Department for Education, have invited schools to take part in a pilot online service to report bullying and cyberbullying concerns.

Reporting platform with resources for students

At the core of the program is an online reporting platform which gives students an easy and simple way to report all issues relating to bullying. Students will get access to a wide range of helpful advice and support.

Resource hub and reporting platform for parents

The online reporting platform is also available for parents to report any worries or concerns they may have about their child. We have also brought together helpful resources for you to support your child at home.

Safeguarding platform and resource hub for teachers

Our aim is to create a one-stop shop for bullying support for school staff. The Make a noise platform allows schools to monitor, respond and effectively deal with any bullying issue raised in school.

Immediate Media survey of 6-15 year olds showed that...

87%

of bullied children faced bullying in school

56%

were unsure of how to get help if they or someone they know experiences bullying

48%

admitted felt nervous telling someone about bullying
